sizeable group of residents of Arlington Heights in the neighborhood of the Ring Sanatorium has organized for the civic betterment of this section of the town. The group will meet again next Tuesday evening at the home of Charles Morton, 123 Claremont

It is no secret that this organi. zation having appointed officers and a committee to submit a name and by-laws at the next meeting means business, intends to take an active interest in the development of this area.

At a meeting on Monday eve-ning, at which thirty or more citizens were present the following oficers were elected: William P. Shine, president: Raymond E. Merrill, vice-president; Mrs. Grace E. Morton, Secretary treasurer.

This oganization is composed largely of citizens of the area surrounding the Ring Sanatorium buildings who believe that this endevelop as a residential district without change in zoning laws or institutional or industrial expandetrimental to the full rights and benefits enjoyed by citizens in establishing residences in like areas.

The people represented by this group feel that the Ring Sanatorium officials rightly believe that in order to continue their work more efficiently, it will be necessary to centralize their activities. His plan involves large

Former School Committeeman To Seek Office

To the Editor of the News: In response to many requests, I am again submitting myself as a candidate for the School Com-mittee at the town election in March. My interest in the Arlington schools began with my appointment as a teacher-coach at the high school in September 1927 where I served until June 1929, and further as a School Commit-teeman from 1931 to 1934 and continues now as the father of three school children, a town meeting member from Precinct 10 and a taxpayer.

There has been a considerable change in the school committee in the past two years and their actions have caused much comment, which has not been wholly complimentary. I heartily endorse the points made by Mr Morine in announcing his candidacy to the board and appeal to the parents and citizens to maintain high standards in our school system. This cannot be accomplished with large classes, break down of morale among employees, and allowing superior teachers to leave the system withon making an effort to retain them. We should have members on the committee who understand the children and who will look after their interests. Likewise we should understand the teachers' problems, in order to secure the maximum from their services, be cause there is more to the job than just the school hours.

The school department should be primarily concerned with the education of the pupils and in my opinion the playground stuation ould be more satisfactorily handled under the park department, instead of the divided authority we now have.

I have publicly advocated economy with reason and desire to TEACHING PIANO — HOW AND WHY?

It was quite evident from the large attendance at the hearing on Tuesday evening that there is a wide difference of opinion as to how group piano instruction should be carried on in our schools.

Quite naturally, the pupils' interests should come first and if it is desirable to teach piano in our schools the best methods possible should be adopted to give suitable instruc-

There should be no exploitation of either teacher or pupils in our schools neither should our educational institution be used in any way in competition with private in-

The evidence presented at the hearing clearly demonstrated that there are good arguments in favor of both sides of the question under consideration.

The School Committee has sufficient facts and is fully competent to study this matter carefully and we feel confident that after so doing its recommendation will be for the best interests of the students with due respect to the rights of all concerned and in keeping with sound educational practices.

Speaking on the art of correct speaking, Eskel O. Carlson, Director of the Miller System of Correct English, told members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly meeting in Wyman's yesterday noon that many people believe they can absorb enough education early in life to last them through their lives. However, he said, everyone must exercise his mind continually Every adult should continue some line of study, he said. Mr. Carlson in order to keep the mind active. further stated that the person who can most readily express himself is most likely to advance. "You may not realize it, but your position in life depends largely upon the English you use every day. Every mistake you make i expressing yourself sticks out like the proverbial sore thumb and reacts against you," Mr. Carlson said. The speaker gave those present a practical test of familiar expressions very often used.

about Them?" Mr. Palmer referred to the changes in newspapers since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration, due to the great increase of interest by the public in national affairs, and said that it was but one of many changes in the last twenty-five years.

He said that there was less individual effort, fewer "scoops" and in general less flavor to news selectmen for a hearing regarding writing. Referring to the great increase in size of newspapers he asked if it might not be a circulars advertising the products good idea to have such specialized journals as women's newspapers and sports newspapers just as there are financial papers.

Part of the reason for the success of the weekly news magazines, he stated, is due to the multiplication of features, special departments and advertising in daily papers, making it increasingly difficult to maintain a proper balance of news.

Minstrel Show and Cabaret To Feature Hallisey Recital

A mid-year recital will be presented by the pupils of Miss Laura A. Hallisey, local dancing teacher, at the Junior High East Auditorium, Foster St., Monday evening, February 1, at 8:00 p.m. In an entirely unusual arrangement smaller children will be presented in a "Miniature Minstrel" the older boys and girls will attend a New Year's Party in a popular night club setting.

Miss Hallisey and her pupils express their sorrow for her former Master of Ceremonies, Harold Burbidge, Jr., who unexpectedly underwent an operation for appendicitis. He was to have acted as "Interlocutor" during the Minstrel but is turning the job over to Louis Kraff, popular young magician who won unlimited popularity in a recent contest in Arlington He will also act as Emcee in the cabaret scene.

With a varied program, the coming show promises to be a good one New Juvenile stars will featured among whom are: Corinne Romley, Barbara Knox, Lois Bain, Eileen Barry, Barbara Field, Winifred Kirsis, Marion Davies, Barbara Bunnell, Jackie Pierpont, Rudolph Tucci, Constance O'Brien, Sally Searles. Audrey Hill, Lillian Ruocco, Lorraine Martin. One of the wellknown child entertainers, Miss Gallerani, excellent toetapper, will make her first appearance this season. This season will be her seventh with Miss Hallisey. Jean Brogan, an original commedienne, will present a new routine, impersonating the popular Martha Ray. With Front Row Girls and their tambourines, eccentric end-men and a large chorus, an equivalent to an oldtime black-faced minstrel show will be presented by Miss Hallisey and her pupils.

Robert Grady Showing Water Colors In Hub

A most unusual exhibition o water colors and oil paintings is now being held at the Boston City Club. The work is that of Robert Grady, 22-year-old Arlington youth who lives at 30 Bow street.

The exhibition consists of fiftythree water colors, mostly land-scapes, several of which were painted in Nova Scotia where the young man spent leet summer. Mr. Grady is a graduate of Arlington High School and has been studying art at the Massachusetts School of Art. He will be graduated in June. The exhibit will continue through January 29 and Mr. Grady will be at the City Club afternoon to personally meet those who drop in to view two of the subject, but we shall interpret our assignment as broadly as our conscience permits and most anything is liable to happen. We want you to read this column, and while a Community Chest is a most interesting subject, it rather difficult to hold the interest for an entire column, so we are apt to drift off onto irrelevant topics, catch as catch can, barring only politics. (Gosh, at this time of the year we'd rather try to interest you in the Chest than in politics.) But just to please these good men who are giving their time to the organization of this local Community Chest, suppose we stick to that for a moment, shall we? Why are we going to have a Chest in Arlington? Well, there are many good reasons, but perhaps the most important is because it is the modern, up to date, common sense way of taking care of social service requirements in a community of this size. As you know, Arlington has grown tremendously in recent years. You and I and lots of others have come here from Cambridge, Somerville, Charles-town and oh, places of that sort. You know, good enough towns in their way, but they're not Arlington. We all kind of like Arlington. We may spend much of our time in our gardens or riding back and forth and hither and yon, but try and knock Arlington and have plenty to say about it. Then there are thousands of folks who were born and have been brought up in Arlington. It is their home town and you know what home town means to any good American. So, all in all, we have the makings of a wonderful community spirit in this town of ours and this Chest is going to give us a chance to bring it out and show it for other

One of our home town folks was telling us the other day what a splendid example of community spirit was shown at the time our Town Hall was dedicated. Seems they had a great celebration in which everyone took a hand. This happened some years ago and this man sort of hinted that ome of us newcomers might kind of get into the spirit of things as they did in former years. He thinks that if we all get together and join supporting this new Chest and show that we can all pull together when it comes to a community effort, it will prove a fine thing for Arlington. And try to find any thing wrong with his argument.

It isn't as though—just another minute, please, let's follow this thought a moment. It isn't as though we had a tremendously large sum of money to raise. We don't need any of this "give until it hurts" hue and cry in Arlington. We don't need to plaster the town with banners and posters and all that sort of thing. This Chest is going to be run in a friendly, neighborly way, with just enough publicity to let folks know about it, but with nothing smacking of ballyhoo. But everyone is going to be asked to take part in it and help to make it a community pro

Another thing-no one is suggesting trying to raise twice as much as ever before. This Chest is going to raise just what has been given in previous years, but in a more efficient manner. Instead of having four separate solicitations by four organizations, using be asked to make one contribution once a year and what we give will be divided among the four social agencies in whose behalf the Chest has been established. Heretofore many of us have been forced to refuse to give to the Boy Scouts because we knew that we would also be asked to give to the Girl Scouts, the Visiting Nurses and the Welfare Council. Some of us have given to the one in which we were the most interested and have then felt guilty at having to refuse the others, but we just could not give to all. Others of us, perhaps taking the line of least resistance, have given nothing at all to any of them. Now we shall be able to give whatever we can afford without having to turn anyone down and will have the satisfaction of knowing that we are supporting them all. Furthermore, we shall be joining with our neighbors in a community project. And when it comes to a community movement, there is not the slightest doubt but that all of us in Arlington will be anxious to do our part, though we cannot give as much as we might like to.

But look, here we are down near the bottom of the column and still we haven't got away from the Chest. That shows what happens when one gets enthused. Still, it wasn't too dry, at that, was it? Or was it? Anyway, next week it will be better. But we must stop here, for this newspaper has been good enough to give this space to the Chest-an excellent example of community spirit, by the wayand we cannot abuse the privilege by running over. We'll be seeing you next week. In the meantime, you might ask your neighbors what they think of having a Chest

HEAT HEADQUARTERS OF ARLINGTON

WHAT WOULD YOU DO

WERE ARLINGTON'S LEADING FUEL MERCHANT?

You would build up your business by selling the best fuel obtainable;

> BECAUSE satisfied customers would naturally mean repeat orders.

You would sell this fuel at the lowest possible price, consistent with high quality;

> BECAUSE it would be your duty to see that your customers got the best value for their fuel dollar.

3 You would never be tempted to purchase inferior fuels at depressed prices with the idea of selling same to your customers at cut prices;

> BECAUSE, today you get exactly what you pay for. Cut price fuel, means less heat, more ash, and no end of trouble.

For the past 18 years we have adhered to the above policy. We are sure that this policy is right, because each year, not only do we retain the good will of our old customers, but continually add new names to our list of satisfied customers.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 24

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations" (Psalms 100:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength" (Isaiah 40:28,29). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to Christian the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The supposed laws which result in weariness and disease are not His laws, for the legitimate and only possible action of Truth production of harmony Laws of nature are laws of Spirit; but mortals commonly recognize as law that which hides the powe of Spirit . . . Obedience to Truth gives man power and strength'
